CONCEPT PAPER SECTIONS

Typically, your concept paper should contain the following elements:
1. The title for the project you are undertaking
2. A brief overview of the research topic, including a summary of what is already known about that topic.
3. A brief statement of the research problem/problem statement that the project will seek to answer.
4. An explanation of why this research question is important and why this project is worth writing.
5. Proposed solution(s) to the research problem in the form of a system.
